Week 35 of Kindergarten!

Hard to believe we only have 13 days left. This week we focused on our end of the year reading benchmarks. The kids did a great job as most everyone increased their reading level by at least 1 letter. Even if you did not make a level D or E that is ok as you have all summer to practice. They will benchmark right at the beginning of the year so be ready! ☺ Too end our writing block for the year we will focus on poetry! We will be talking about measurement next week in math.

Have a super weekend!

How can I get my child to be more physically active?

- Find a fun activity. Help your child find a sport that she enjoys
- Choose an activity that is developmentally appropriate
- Provide active toys. Young children especially need easy access to balls, jump ropes, and other active toys.
- Be a model for your child. Children who regularly see their parents enjoying sports and physical activity are more likely to do so themselves.
- Play with your child.
- Turn off the TV. Limit television watching and computer use to no more than 1 to 2 hours per day
- Make time for exercise

Studies have shown that lifestyles learned as children are much more likely to stay with a person into adulthood. If sports and physical activities are a family priority, they will provide children and parents with a strong foundation for a lifetime of health.
